

Christianity and Quantum States

Dr. D. Bobby¹, Dr. S. Regupathy², Rev. Sr. Arul Selvi³, Dr. S. Rekha⁴

¹Associate Professor, Department of English, DMI Engineering College, Aralvoimozhi.

²Professor, Department of Chemistry, DMI Engineering College, Aralvoimozhi.

³Administrator, DMI Engineering College, Aralvoimozhi.

⁴Assistant Professor, Department of Mathematics, DMI Engineering College, Aralvoimozhi.

Received: March 07, 2026

Accepted: March 15, 2026

Published Online: March 30, 2026

ABSTRACT

This paper aims to explore the goings-on within the world of Christian spirituality and Quantum States. The complicated terminology as well as the heavily accented technicality that goes with the territory of Quantum theories are broken into simplified terms in tandem with the latest trends in Christian spirituality. Having mentioned this, there has to be a driving force behind every physical occurrence in the universe. Things do not randomly happen, and there is a divine pattern for understanding the mysterious. Cults and pseudo-spiritual circles have tried to make sense of this but have eventually generated havoc in the minds of the spiritually inclined. There are myriad possibilities but those can be narrowed down to a manageable level by internalizing and meditating on the words of scripture. The Anti-Christ figurehead is alluded in this research article because everything that is qualitatively and quantitatively presented in the Bible can be correlated to the evil and good in the world we inhabit. Logic ceases to be an effective connector beyond a certain point, and this paves way for the faith and blood symbolism in the Old Testament and the New Testament. It is the privilege of kings to search and understand secrets, as the Bible tells us. There are solutions waiting to be found by believers who are willing to exercise faith in God for achieving the impossible. One needs to shift into an unbelievably powerful state of being which is the Quantum state for appropriating glorious moments.

Keywords: Spirituality, Faith, Blood, Consciousness, Symbol.

Introduction

The obsession with Quantum Leaping, alternate states of consciousness, faith-altering states of being, has not been in vogue without strong reasons. As the world moves from a rural setting to a more organized urban setting, life is becoming increasingly complex, in fact so complex that our normal state of mind cannot handle the load of expectations that are thrust upon us by family, society, kith and kin. Add to this list, the pressures of the workplace in an AI-driven ambience, the load becomes intolerably burdensome indeed.

When the available resources do not suffice, there has to be an alternative, a Plan B to tide over the crisis. It is at this juncture that man starts searching the logical wilderness of his mind for a truly effective solution. Logicality is usually an anathema to the spiritually initiated individual. Where reasoning fails, faith steps in and holds the fascinating and humanly imperceptible Life-Force/Creator/Maker/God/Lord/Omnipresent One, to accomplish the indomitable. There is however, a resounding wisdom in the decision to change tracks completely and seamlessly when nothing seems to work in one's favour. Anything and everything in this world is made of bigger particles as well as smaller particles. When matter is all we have for perceiving reality, the alternative of a freed disbelieving soul enters the larger scheme of things.

Discussion and Findings

Faith is therefore necessary for sustenance and survival to overcome the raging storms in our minds but it is not all-sufficient for a miraculous transformation. Christians need a divine deity who takes that faith-force and metamorphosizes it into a much higher level. This also necessitates a connector cable or medium which in spiritual parlance means a blood ritual. In modern times, the blood ritual is either thrust upon a person that is part of the deity or taken upon by homo sapiens themselves.

In many tribal communities of Africa, rituals involving blood and pain are included as part of the growing-up process. When new blood then flows through the veins, there is a paradigm shift for the better which speaks better things for the individual. In other words, blood is a living state of being which is plasma-like or the fourth state of matter. It is the combination of these two, Faith in a divine Deity + Blood Ritual, that ushers an individual into the fifth state of matter. In the language of Christians, it would obviously be the blood of the Lord Jesus plus Faith in the Heavenly Father.

A Quantum State is not an ordinary state of being in the physical sense of the word as understood by scientists. It is the fifth state of matter where electrons are observed in a sub-zero temperature environment without the restrictions of gravity. In other words, the electrons lose their individuality and enter a situation where they can be programmed to become anything else without holding even a trace of its original quality. These observations can be carried out successfully only in outer space where there is zero-gravity.

In July 2018, NASA's Cold Atom Lab became the first facility to produce that fifth state of matter, called a Bose-Einstein condensate (BEC), in Earth orbit. A fundamental physics facility on the International Space Station, Cold Atom Lab cools atoms down to ultracold temperatures in order to study their basic physical properties in ways that would not be possible on Earth...is a foundational part of many components in many modern technologies, including cell phones and computers, that employ the wave nature of electrons in silicon. (NASA's Cold Atom Lab Takes One Giant Leap for Quantum Science - NASA)

At the Princeton Plasma Innovation Centre (PPIC), Plasma has been studied for bringing about fusions that can release huge amounts of energy and act as sources for unrestricted energy. Freeing some of the electrons by heating a neutral gas, induces the Plasma state. The free negatively charged electrons react predictably to electric current and magnetic fields in a controlled environment. This provides insights into the hot charged state of electrons that can shape-shift into the fifth state of matter. These levels can put in parallel with different degrees of faith for becoming one with the Supreme Being, a state that is devoid of the controlling forces of ego, selfishness, wickedness, envy and covetousness.

The free negative electrons and positive ions in a plasma allow electric current....on Earth is lightning!... Energy from these neutrons can be collected in a blanket consisting of a molten mixture of lithium and lead that surrounds the plasma. Excess heat in this blanket can then be used to make steam to drive turbines and generate electricity” (About Plasmas and Fusion | Princeton Plasma Physics Laboratory).

The force behind positive outcomes is something that is invisible and believed to be a deeply mysterious process that coordinates everything to bring about what is confessed and faithfully believed. We always harp upon the connecting force or the laws of attraction to talk about the positive mindset and its products or fruits. When tangible sources demand tangible proof, we turn to religion for spiritual reasons and possibilities. Either way, there is an undeniable force that is pervasive all over the physical world and it brings about results in mind-boggling ways.

Many who believe that consciousness creates and manipulates matter believe that the "Law of Attraction" can be explained by quantum mechanics. The crux of the Law of Attraction is that whatever a person focuses on will be brought into that person's existence, because the thought becomes directed energy... (Quantum Mechanics and the Consciousness Connection | American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS)).

The fourth state of matter is the faith force that is aided by the sacrificial blood of a supreme being who originated from the heavenlies and the fifth state of matter is when the faith in this blood of the Lamb of God, Jesus Christ and in his life-enabling, life-creating and life-sustaining words becomes one with the Creator's will (Goodwill or blessings) and generates the perfect desired outcome which is completely in alignment with the words of the Creator himself. In the Bible it is written that the visible Word became Flesh, that is to say, the New Testament gospel of Salvation. Faith in the verses of the Supreme Creator becomes life bubbling from within the spirit realm and it seeps into the mind which lets it flow into the visibly physical human body.

“In the beginning was the Word and the Word was with God and the Word became flesh by dwelling amongst us” (John 1:14, New King James Version).

Faith requires words that are backed by the support of the sacrificial blood of an unblemished selfless soul and it is in this fact that Israelites in the Old Testament continually offered the blood offerings to Yahweh until a permanent solution in the form of the shed blood of the Lord Jesus Christ manifested in the New Testament.

In the book of Genesis in the Old Testament, God created everything through the spoken word only because nowhere it has been mentioned that he shaped and formed it with his hands. Light was spoken over darkness and the earth and oceans were spoken into existence along with the stars. Therefore, it is entirely an instance of mind over matter, in this case, God's mind spoken over a void and then matter was formed. Nothing was created without declarations.

Man was created in God's image but we see only a reflection of the image or the original, not the original 'Himself'. It is only through our eyes of faith we see miraculous solutions or outcomes. It must be mentioned at this juncture that not all see through the eyes of faith, only thousands out of billions of people in this world satisfactorily and joyfully realize the fruits of faith-filled words repeated from the scriptures. In the Christian realm, nothing fantastically positive occurs unless it is spoken in the name of Jesus Christ, the sacrificial Lamb of God. This is because words uttered through human mouths become exponentially positive when they are articulated with authority.

When 'x' is raised to 'n' times where 'n' exponentially needs to be a tremendously powerful integer, in terms of a miracle, the 'n' factor can be filled by the God Force. You may call it the God Particle or whatever it can be labelled with. The 'x' is the variable which symbolizes any human who is capable of generating the God-pulling faith or the miracle generating faith. This faith in Christian parlance can be generated only after believing in the Blood of the Lamb of God. So, we see a systemic progression vis-a-vis the fourth state of matter which is Plasma or Blood state of matter.

$$(X^{\{n\}} > Y^{\text{left}(-n\text{right}}))$$

A photograph of a handwritten equation on a light-colored surface. The equation is written in dark ink and reads 'x^n > y^{(-n)}'. The 'x' is on the left, followed by a superscript 'n', then a greater-than sign '>', then a 'y', and finally a superscript '(-n)' enclosed in large parentheses.

Figure 1.

In the above equation, 'x' stands for a God-word filled individual on the LHS and 'y' on the RHS stands for negative minded godless/scripture-less individual bereft of God' Word and Faith (which are one). In simple words it means that in the Christian realm, the positive energy of God is 'n' times greater than any circumstance which is dictated by the faithlessness that can be the opposite of the 'n' force. This completely renders the 'y' (faithless) human powerless because the power of unbelief pulls down the faithless one into deep misery and hopelessness. This means that God is unable to help anyone who has chosen not to accept the blood of the Lamb of God thereby making him (the faithless human) inaccessible to the power of God which is infinite 'n' power or God-force.

It maybe that the God-particle or the particle granting force to form matter is this. But nobody can explain how this God-particle came into existence. If we try to trace every particle back to its creator, we end with infinity. Infinity can be understood only by faith, not by quantitative reasoning. Quantitative management requires tangibility or a definite quantity which has to be a particular number. There are limits to human cruelty but this human cruelty breeds other forms worse than the base form which again is aided by an invisible evil force. The 'Beast' in the Bible is represented by the number 666 and it is this beast that wants to have unlimited power which is possessed only by God. Now that we understand that 666 is a finite number, a quantifiable number, we must also in the same vein of thought understand that the finite is trying continually to grab hold of the infinite force that is the personification of Love in the form of the sacrificial Lamb, Jesus Christ. This eventually leads to misery, desperation, hatred and most of all, envy which is the Devil incarnate.

In all of Christendom, the forces of evil have clashed with the forces of goodness or the forces of God. In biblical numerology, the number 7 represents perfection, love and wholeness, the key attributes of God. The number 6 falls short of all these and therefore symbolizes increasing greed, hatred, envy and misery. In the history of Christianity, Nero the Roman Emperor was recorded as the first persecutor of the first followers of Christ because his name represented the number 666 in the Gematria calculation. This calculation is based upon the theory that Greek and Hebrew letters represented numerical values. The number 666 represented the Anti-Christ or in other words, the anti-thesis to Christ. This anathema is the opposite to 'Maranatha' which means, 'Our Lord, come'. This could be taken to mean that the will of God be done on this earth as it is in heaven where there is no sickness and evil.

“Here is wisdom. Let him who has understanding calculate the number of the beast, for it is the number of a man: His number is 666.” (Revelation 11:11, New King James Version)

The forces of evil in this world however, would have it otherwise, the annihilation of the human race through the vicious circle of greed, war, famine, plagues and poverty. Conceptually speaking, it is evident that without faith it is impossible to exercise victory in life’s negative circumstances. Therefore, the need for a divine and infinitely powerful saviour becomes stronger day by day for adverse circumstances. The solution lies therein the purest expression of faith or the ability to enforce copious amounts of the God-force through spoken words of scripture into the most negative of circumstances. The word ‘Pharaoh’ occurs in the first five books of the Bible 216 times which is $6*6*6$. Consider the sum and the cubing of 6 below:

$$6 + 6 + 6 = 18$$

$$6*6*6 \text{ (6 cubed)} = 216$$

The number 18 signifies a period of suffering. The number 216 which is the number of times Pharaoh is mentioned in the Pentateuch of the Bible. Pharaoh was an evil king who wanted to suppress the Israelites by subjecting them to bonded labour. He was overcome by rage when he was forced by Moses to let them go. After his relentless pursuit of the Israelites through the vast desert, Pharaoh and his army ended in a watery grave, the Red Sea which symbolically represents the body of Jesus bleeding blood for the Israelites as well as for faith-filled Christians. Finally, it symbolically ends in the faith of believers in the Blood of the Lamb of God. The fourth state of matter plus the faith of believers enables believers to move into the fifth state of matter which is mountain-moving victory or the Quantum Space (where the Supreme Being’s will and the devotee’s will becomes one). The Israelites were able to reach the other side of the Red Sea through the combination of faith and the Blood of the Lamb of God.

If we equate $(6+6+6)x = 216*y$, then,

$$x/y = 216/18 = 12$$

Now there are can be two interpretations:

Interpretation 1:

'x' and 'y' stand for different humans. From figure 1 we understand that y has attached himself/herself to a dastardly evil force which acts as a multiplier of evil. This is against the will of God who wants all humans to dwell in harmony and peace. In the Bible the woman who had a serious illness that made society shun her, suffered for 12 years. So when society is divided with strife, the result is suffering. Y wants to usurp the happiness of human 'x'.

Interpretation 2:

Good cannot be divided by evil in the heavenlies or the fifth state of matter. Complete freedom from worldly desires, actions and consequences can happen only after death or an enforced quantum space before death. In other words, it is possible to bring about this state of being through complete oneness with the Spiritual/Heavenly Father, not the god of greed who is continually hell-bent on multiplication of wealth by the destruction of another person's prosperity and joy. In the fifth state of matter, electrons are completely free from restricting or limiting forces of gravity. Gravity here conceptually stands for worldly forces and sensitivities.

Concluding Remarks

No matter how much we try to quantify every aspect of life, human behaviour to this day is unpredictable in the absolute sense of the word or per se. Psychologists can predict patterns in human behaviour but sometimes certain cases baffle them. Some criminals have had no record of wrongdoing in their formative years but later on, in their adult years, they are found guilty of indulging in the most heinous of crimes. Quantum space shifting is successful for some but not everyone reaps the benefit of doing so. This explains why some people are healed of their sickness while others are not. However, if an individual persists in detaching himself or herself from intentional wrongdoing and harmful or rash utterances, quantum shifting or becoming one with the creator becomes possible in this life itself.

Works Cited

About Plasmas and Fusion | Princeton Plasma Physics Laboratory, www.pppl.gov/about/about-plasmas-and-fusion.

“NASA’s Cold Atom Lab Takes One Giant Leap for Quantum Science.” NASA, NASA, 23

Sept. 2025, www.nasa.gov/centers-and-facilities/jpl/nasas-cold-atom-lab-takes-one-giant-leap-for-quantum-science/.

Quantum Mechanics and the Consciousness Connection | American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS), www.aaas.org/membership/scientia/quantum-mechanics-and-consciousness-connection.

The Holy Bible, New King James Version. Thomas Nelson, 1982.